

Commercial Lending & Finance

Jones Walker represents financial institutions, banks, insurance companies, investors, borrowers, and creditors in a variety of matters, including financing transactions, regulatory matters, and general commercial matters. Our clients benefit from the diverse experience of our commercial-lending lawyers. We handle a broad range of financing structures, including:

- Multi-lender credit syndications
- Real estate and construction loans
- Mixed debt and equity financings
- Syndication financings
- Tax credit financing
- Synthetic lease financing
- Letters of credit
- Asset-based loans
- Asset securitizations
- Sale and leaseback transactions
- Equipment and transportation equipment (aircraft, marine vessel, rolling stock, containers and trailers) financings, including leases
- Oil and gas loan financing
- MARAD financing
- Timber financing
- Entertainment industry loans
- International and cross-border transactions, including project finance

Jones Walker's commercial lending lawyers also have extensive experience counseling clients on various aspects of debtor-creditor relations, such as lender liability disputes, workouts, and surety matters.