

Trade Secrets and Unfair Competition

Because claims of trade secret misappropriation and unfair use of confidential information are commonly appended to traditional patent, trademark, copyright, and employment lawsuits, our clients must understand how trade secrets and confidential information may be used to their best advantage, and how to prevent loss of rights through disclosure. Jones Walker's attorneys not only litigate trade secret and unfair competition claims, but also counsel clients with respect to their operating policies and procedures to avoid the time and expense of litigation.

