

Regulatory

Dating back to the formation of current environmental law in the 1980s, our extensive experience in working with federal, state, and local regulations includes:

- Evaluating and auditing compliance with environmental and safety requirements;
- Defending against compliance orders and penalty assessments;
- Negotiating with agency officials;
- Proposing beneficial or supplemental environmental projects;
- Interpreting regulations;
- Defending permits in administrative or judicial forums;
- Defending against citizen suits;
- Taking administrative appeals of agency permit or enforcement decisions;
- Providing due diligence reviews in transactions;
- Providing oversight on technical reports, e.g., wetland delineations, compliance audits, RECAP, AAI;
- Organizing voluntary remediation of Brownfields; and
- Providing guidance on reporting issues.
